

Make Your Pledge To The Community Chest Now

All Over The Budgeted $1,700.00 Will Be Used This Year For Direct Relief

Postmaster R. A. Reid, who is director of the Montevallo Community Chest subscription campaign, announces that everything is in readiness for the campaign to be made this week. Solicitors will call upon people of the town and on the college campus, and it is hoped that all pledges will be made promptly.

Full publicity has been made of the Chest plans, and it is felt that the community is in full accord with the work that has been done under this movement the past two years.

Everything is all set to continue the great work of the Chest for another year. Subscriptions totaling $1,700 are requested for this year. This is the same amount as last year.

If you feel like raising the amount of your former pledge, it will be acceptable. The Board has determined that all money raised above the $1700 budget will go directly for relief.

Alumnae Delegates Here To Attend Conference

Alumnae representatives from approximately fifteen chapters over the state will attend the Chapter Conferences at Alabama College on October 20-21.

The purpose of the meeting is to strengthen chapter organization through the knowledge of what other chapters are doing, to present and discuss plans made by the committee on equipping Reynolds Hall, and to acquaint representatives with the present Alabama College.

Guest speaker for the conference will be Miss Helen Perry, alumnae secretary at Mississippi State College for Women, who will lead a discussion on "Possible Activities for Chapters Connected with State-Supported Colleges."

Miss Dawn Kennedy, chairman of the committee for equipping Reynolds Hall, will present the plans of the committee to the group.

Dean T. H. Napier will speak at the afternoon meeting.

Entertainment being planned for the delegates will include after-dinner coffee on Friday night, after which guests will attend "The Barber of Seville," a production of the College Theatre. Saturday afternoon representatives will make a tour of the campus which will be followed by a tea with members of the faculty. Saturday night they will be entertained at an informal dinner by students from their home districts.

Alabama College alumnae living in Montevallo are cordially invited to attend the meetings of this conference.

Dr. John B. Thompson, noted religious leader, who will speak at Alabama College during Religious Emphasis Week.

Religious Emphasis Week October 24-26

For its third Religious Emphasis Week the Young Women's Christian Association will bring to the campus October 24-26, Dr. John B. Thompson, minister of the First Presbyterian Church in Norman, Oklahoma. To its services the Y. W. C. A. invites all citizens of Montevallo. High School Team Lost To Centreville

Montevallo High School's football team was stopped last Friday by an unbeaten Centreville eleven, by a score of 6-0. The lone touchdown came in the second quarter when Centreville opened up with a series of passes and tricky reverses. Montevallo kept the ball in Centreville's territory during most of the second half.

Despite an advantage in weight, enjoyed by the Centreville team, the M. H. S. line did some excellent defensive work. Testimony to Montevallo's defensive strength is the fact that no team has scored over one touchdown. Thus far, Montevallo has rolled up 25 points against 19 for all its opponents combined.

Clanton plays the local eleven here Friday, October 27, in what promises to be a hot game.

BUSINESS WOMEN TO MEET

The regular meeting of the Montevallo Business and Professional Women's Club will be held next Monday, October 23, at 7 p.m., in East Main Parlor at Alabama College. After a short business meeting the group will join the A. A. U. W. at Calkins Hall to hear Prof. Martin of the University of Alabama discuss "Major Changes in the Government of Alabama Under the Present Administration."

All members are urgently requested to be present.

Stop Shooting!

Police Chief Gardner says the promiscuous shooting of firearms—rifles and shotguns—in the town of Montevallo must stop.

In recent weeks reports have been made of a number of instances where people narrowly escaped injury from stray bullets.

After this warning, Mr. Gardner promises to apply the law promptly to anyone guilty of shooting a gun in town.

Episcopalians Plan Student Center

Women's Auxiliary to Hold Sale To Contribute Toward Fund For Building Program

A bakery sale, sponsored by the Woman's Auxiliary of the St. Andrew's Episcopal Church, on Thursday, October 19, in the Little Shop will initiate a series of projects undertaken by this group to raise a fund to be used toward rebuilding the church destroyed in the tornado last April, according to Miss Joyce Kellogg, president of the Auxiliary.

Miss Annie Kemp, chairman, and Mrs. Peter made up the committee forming plans for the bakery sale. The thirteen members of the Auxiliary have begun a savings account toward which a considerable amount has already been given and pledged. Many plans are now in progress by the group toward building up this fund.

The thirty-two college students belonging to the Episcopal Church expressed great interest and a desire to take part in the program at a meeting held at the home of Miss Kellogg last Sunday.

Building Program

The replacement of the church in Montevallo has been the concern of the entire Episcopal Diocese of Alabama.

A $25,000 building program at Montevallo was launched in Montgomery recently at the 50th annual meeting of the Women's Auxiliary, Episcopal Diocese of Alabama. The objective of the women and Bishop C. C. J. Carpenter is to erect a chapel and also a student center for the students attending Alabama College.

More than $2,000 was turned over to the bishop at the meeting. A considerable part of the offering is said to have been raised at that time. The rest of the money which was turned over represented offerings by local auxiliaries during the year.

Student Center

The chapel will replace the church which was destroyed, but the student center, it was explained, is to be available to the students for social purposes to meet a need which has existed for years.

Bishop Carpenter also proposed to engage for the Diocese of Alabama a woman worker at the college.

Anyone wishing to take part in the fund begun by the Women's Auxiliary in Montevallo may contact Miss Frances Ribble, secretary of the organization.

Town Will Install Fire Alarm Siren

It will not be long until you will be able to know it when we have a fire in town.

The Town Council has bought the Aldrich siren and will have it put into readiness for operation right away.

This is said to be one of the biggest sirens made. It is operated by a 5-horsepower motor. When the juice is turned on it in full force, Mr. Gardner says, it will knock everybody in Montevallo right out of bed.

Five Times Around World As A Diplomat's Wife

Madame Pearl V. Metzelthin, who will lecture at Alabama College on October 30.

Famous Traveler and Lecturer To Be Second Number On Concert-Lecture Series

"Five Times Around the World as a Diplomat's Wife" will be the subject of a lecture by Madame Pearl V. Metzelthin when she appears at Alabama College on October 30 as the second number of the 1939-40 Concert and Lecture Series.

Madame Metzelthin is an international authority on dietetics, hygiene, and nutrition. She has taught those subjects at the University of Berlin and at the Sorbonne in Paris. As the wife of a German diplomat she kept house in eleven different countries.

This versatility has resulted in her appointment as food consultant for American Airlines. The International Red Cross gave Mme. Metzelthin a medal for her post-war relief work.

Besides her formal lecture, the speaker will confer with special groups of home economics majors, and hold roundtable conferences with faculty and advanced students during her two-day visit to the Montevallo campus.

To smaller groups at the college Madame Metzelthin will talk on "The World Keeps House" and "The Culture of Old China and Its Part in the future."

Paving Project Now Well Underway

Montevallo's street paving program is now well started. The work was begun October 2 on Moody Street.

Thirty-eight men are employed in grading and laying out the streets preparatory to putting down the black top surfacing.

The men employed in the work come from the following communities: Underwood, Pea Ridge, and Marvel 11; Aldrich 7; Wilton 5; Montevallo 15. The payroll on the job is estimated to be from $1,600 to $2,000 a month and the job is set up to run from 6 to 8 months. The total cost will be about $43,000.

Mr. W. R. Parsons, of Bessemer, came here this week as superintendent of construction, succeeding Mr. Marshall. Mr. Parsons was engineer on the Double Oak Mountain project.

Mr. R. F. Miller, well known local citizen, is project time-keeper.

Elementary Teachers Present Program

The elementary teachers of Shelby County presented a very interesting program at their general meeting in Columbiana Wednesday evening, October 11. The theme of the meeting was "Home and School Relationship." Interesting talks were given by the following teachers: Miss Lorraine McLaughlin, Miss Elizabeth Mays, Miss Olivia Young, and Mrs. Geraldine Davis.

The P. T. A. group was represented by Mrs. Houston, Mrs. Hendrick, and Mrs. Pickett of Maylene, and Mrs. Curlee of Columbiana. These parents gave informative talks on the work of the P. T. A. in their own communities in cooperation with the schools.

Mrs. Fancher, who is one of the group leaders, presided. She was assisted by Miss Olivia Lawson, of Montevallo, and Mrs. Sasser, elementary supervisor, of Columbiana.

CLEMENT MARTIN EMPLOYED NOW AT McCULLEY'S

Mr. Teamon McCulley, proprietor of McCulley's popular food store, announces that he has employed Mr. Clement Martin as manager of the meat department of his store. Mr. Martin is an experienced butcher, having worked for the past 8 or 10 years with some of the large chain stores in the Birmingham district.

Together with the employment of Mr. Martin, McCulley's have enlarged and improved their market facilities. "We are now prepared," they say, "to furnish our customers with the utmost in service and quality on every item of meat that may be demanded by our trade. We ask you to call and see our new meat department, get acquainted with Mr. Martin, and call us for whatever you need at any time."

High School Band To Present "Band Night"

Gay crowds, a brightly lit high school, syncopated music, the saw of fiddles, all will mark "Band Nite," Friday, October 20, a night of fun and frolic sponsored by the Montevallo High School Band to raise money for uniforms. Everyone is invited to this gala occasion which will begin at 7:30 o'clock.

On Friday afternoon preceding the party, the band will lead a parade downtown which will contain floats representative of each phase of entertainment. The route of the parade will be around the business block and through the college.

Features of the evening will be ballroom dancing, square dancing, and games such as ping-pong, loop tennis, and badminton. The band will play a short program of music during the course of the evening's entertainment. The Schottische, a very simple folk dance, will be introduced at the party. A community sing, directed by a faculty member, will furnish entertainment for some.

Buses from all surrounding communities will come into town for the party.

Mr. Stanley Mahan will call the figures of the square dance and several fiddlers will furnish music. Before the night of the party, a group of interested people will gather to learn the figures of the square dances. Ballroom dancing will be carried out as always, taking place in the auditorium which will be colorfully decorated carrying out the Band Nite theme.

The band will use the proceeds of the party and dance for uniforms. With uniforms the band will be ready to make more public appearances.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY

The regular monthly business meeting of the Methodist Missionary Society will meet Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the parsonage. Members of both circles are urged to come.

VISITORS AT HIGH SCHOOL OBSERVE WORK

A group of leading educators recently made visits here to observe the work of Montevallo High School.

Among them were Dr. Frank C. Jenkins, of Nashville, director of Southern study; Charles Boye, of the University of Chicago; Ray Yoder, specialist in art education, Norris, Tenn., TVA School; Dr. V. M. Sims, University of Alabama and supervisor in the Southern Association.

DR. HARMAN ENDORSES THE COMMUNITY CHEST

By way of endorsement of the Montevallo Community Chest on behalf of Alabama College, President Harman has gone further and expressed in words most impressively the ideal of relationship which he recognizes as existing among all the people of Montevallo and surrounding territory.

"As citizens of the college community," he says to the college people, "we are likewise citizens of Montevallo community."

We quite agree with Dr. Harman that all of us should feel a great pride in the fact that we live in an environment where the emphasis is on education. Therefore, we are in a fortunate position to most happily achieve the fullest in community living.

Elsewhere we quote the statement of Dr. Harman in full. It is reproduced from the current issue of The Weekly Bulletin of Alabama College.

BAND NIGHT

The high school is "throwing a big 'un" tomorrow night. The effort is in behalf of a fund to supply uniforms for members of the band.

According to the story in this paper, we may expect a great variety of entertainment features at "Band Night."

It will be a get-together worthwhile for parents of the school children. It will be a help to the band. They should have uniforms, and we should help them get them.

TUBERCULOSIS, A STATE AND COMMUNITY DISCREDIT

Knowledge of tuberculosis and its control have almost reached the point where a death from it is a reflection of personal or community carelessness and neglect. A death from tuberculosis in nearly all cases now means that diagnosis of the disease was delayed and treatment was started too late.

Workers in the fight against tuberculosis met in Birmingham this week to hear discussions arranged by the Alabama Tuberculosis Association. They go back to their work impressed by the emphasis given to the fact that tuberculosis can be controlled, that the number of fatalities is largely the measure of carelessness on the part of the individual and the community.

The community can do something toward reducing the number of preventable tuberculosis deaths by providing more hospitalization facilities. The standard urged by medical and health experts calls for one hospital bed in a state or community for each annual death from the disease. In Alabama this demands 1,600 beds, since that many Alabamians died of the disease last year. The eight tuberculosis sanatoria in Alabama, however, have a combined capacity of only 399 beds.

Beyond this community obligation is the personal obligation of a competent examination whenever possible symptoms arise, and also periodically for even the healthy. Not until this is done will the former "captain of the men of death," now in seventh place in Alabama among the causes of death, be eliminated as one of the common diseases.—Birmingham News.

COTTON GINNING REPORT

Census report shows that 1,601 bales of cotton were ginned in Shelby County from the crop of 1939 prior to October 1, as compared with 2,109 bales for the crop of 1938, announces Gordon Mooney, special agent of the Bureau of the Census.

Dr. J. Alex Moore is in circulation again this week after a few days in bed. He got sick while in Jasper last week and was treated at Walker County Hospital.

The 1939-40 Community Chest: Needs and Plans

The New Budget

Based on estimated receipts of $1,700

For emergency relief	54%
For local school needs	22%
Music	6%
Athletics	6%
P. T. A.	10%
For Boy Scouts	11%
For Girl Scouts	11%
For operation	2%
Total	100%

The Chest Board asks Montevallo to contribute for next year's needs a minimum of $1700. This was the sum raised last year. If the same amount is contributed again, for relief there will be $918; for music and athletics, $102 each; for P. T. A. purchase of playground equipment, $170; for each of the Scout Councils, $187; and for printing and postage, $34.

Plans for Use of these Funds

Administration

The expense of operating the Chest goes about half for printing and half for postage. The total percentage has been held much lower than is usual in larger towns. It could be further reduced if all pledges were paid promptly when due.

Girl Scouts

All of the money contributed to the Girl Scout program will again be applied on the cost of the "Little House" built by the Scout Council last year.

Boy Scouts

Similarly most of the money contributed to the Boy Scout program will be applied on the obligations incurred in erecting the "Big Spring Cabin." The remainder will constitute the Montevallo subscription to the program of the Black Warrior Boy Scout Council, which directs Boy Scout work in this section of the state.

Music in the Schools

For two years a contribution has been made to the equipment fund of the Montevallo High School Band.

The progress in this organization is rightfully a source of community gratification. Next year a small additional amount will be contributed to a band and orchestra fund for the elementary school.

Athletics

Before the Chest was started the merchants of Montevallo were called on year after year to contribute from $100 to $150 for uniforms and other equipment necessary for the high school athletic program. The first Chest Board agreed to provide at least $100 a year for high school athletics so that public solicitation of contributions by the high school itself would no longer be necessary.

Playground Equipment

The Parent-Teacher Association will again invest all of its Chest funds in standard playground equipment, some of it to be used by the smaller and some by the older children. Although the money spent during the last two years has been very helpful, there is not yet nearly enough play equipment for the nearly 800 boys and girls that use the playground.

Negro Recreation

During each of the last two years 5% of the budget has been set aside for use in helping the Negro P. T. A. to provide for the Montevallo Negro children. A total of $165 is now accumulated for use at the school this fall. Because this fund will suffice to meet many immediate needs and because the demand for additional relief funds is so pressing, no special provision for Negro children is made in this year's budget.

Emergency Relief

As in the past the relief funds will be used only where government funds are not available to meet serious human distress. Most of it will go to children: the largest amount for school lunches, the next largest for medical service and supplies, and the next for clothing.

By reducing allotments for several recreational agencies, the appropriation for relief has been slightly increased. But the Board doubts that $918 will be enough this year because of the serious loss of crops suffered by the farmers last summer. The $1700 asked for is regarded as a minimum. Every dollar received over that amount will go to the relief fund.

Four New Cases Of Scarlet Fever

The number of cases of scarlet fever has been somewhat above the average this year in Shelby County and during the last week four cases have developed.

These latter cases were in three widely separated sections of the county.

Scarlet fever is principally a disease of children, but adults also have it on occasion as evidenced by three adult cases in this county during the last year.

It develops in two to seven days after exposure to a case or carrier. Usually the first symptoms are sore throat and fever. There are likely to be headache and probably nausea and vomiting. The rash usually appears on the second day.

The mortality rate is not high, but complications such as inflammation of the middle ear, abscessed glands in the neck and involvement of the kidneys may be troublesome.

The safest procedure is to consider every sore throat as suspicious. If the child has any fever, put him to bed, isolate him from other members of the family and carefully sterilize all articles which come in contact with the patient such as eating and drinking utensils, bed clothing and linens, towels, etc.

The diagnosis should be made and treatment prescribed by the family physician. The disease is self limited but a great deal can be done to make the patient more comfortable and to help prevent dangerous complications.

The patient must be kept isolated for a period of three weeks in uncomplicated cases.—E. F. Sloan, M. D., County Health Officer.

Mr. R. L. Griffin is reported to be getting along all right after being injured while he was interviewing a coach on the sidelines of a football game in Livingston.

Report of Examination of School Children for Last Year

The following report of school health work in Shelby County, submitted by Dr. E. F. Sloan, County Health Officer, was published in the October issue of the Journal of the State Medical Association.

We submit herewith a report of physical examinations and immunizations of school children in Shelby County during the school year of 1938-1939.

Children examined	3,020
Abnormal Conditions Found
Skin infections	40
Defective teeth	682
Defective tonsils and adenoids	529
Enlarged lymphatic glands	481
Defective vision	165
Eyes crossed or inflamed	37
Vision corrected by glasses	81
Defective hearing	90
Nutritional defects	643
Heart abnormality	13
Lung abnormality	3
Other abnormality, as cleft palate, chorea, paralysis, etc.	15

Immunizations
Against diphtheria	275
Against smallpox	608
Against typhoid	470
Schick tests	969
Nose and throat cultures	914
Tuberculin skin tests	134
X-Ray of chest	500

1. of the 690 Schick tests done to determine immunity to diphtheria, only 7½ per cent were positive, which indicates that over 90 per cent of the school children tested are immune to diphtheria at the present time.

Of the 914 nose and throat cultures made to determine the number of diphtheria carriers among school children, it was found that approximately 6 per cent were positive. This emphasizes the great necessity of immunizing as many children as possible against diphtheria.

2. In the "Summer Round-Up" examinations, 208 pre-school children were examined for defects and a large number of these immunized. We had only 58 pre-school examinations the preceding year.

On re-examination of children examined last year, a large number of corrections were noted, as fitting with eyeglasses, removal of defective tonsils and adenoids, repair of defective teeth, etc. One child has had a chronic wry-neck relieved and one has had a cyst removed from her eye at the Crippled Children's Clinic. One has had a large cyst removed from his cheek by his family physician. Two children with cleft palate have been referred to the Crippled Children's Clinic for treatment. One child with tuberculosis was hospitalized, without any expense to his family, and arrangements have been made to hospitalize another who was found, upon examination at the Chest Clinic, to have tuberculosis.

4. It is hoped that during the coming school year we will be able, with the cooperation of some of the service clubs, to organize one or more tonsil clinics. This would enable a large number of children to receive needed treatment whose families are unable to pay for same.

Work goes faster
in a LIGHT-CONDITIONED kitchen

Work goes faster and is easier to do in a light-conditioned kitchen. Prove it yourself by starting with a 150-watt Silvered Bowl lamp for ceiling lighting.

To have a really light-conditioned kitchen, you should also have good light at each work area. For instance, you should use a 60-watt MAZDA lamp over the sink.

Unless your stove is already equipped with a light, you'll be surprised at the difference a 40-watt MAZDA Lumiline lamp can make.

For lighting breakfast nooks, kitchen counters, and open shelves, try using one of the attractive new pin-to-wall lamps with a 100-watt MAZDA lamp. It's "tops."

The High School's Plan For Putting
Its Philosophy Into Operation

1. We have set up a two-hour period in each of the junior high school grades. Herein teachers are relieved of subject matter requirements and encouraged to guide activities of children growing out of their need and carried out in conformity with our philosophy.

2. We have accepted tentatively the scope and sequence and aims worked out by the Alabama Curriculum Committee as a guide for teachers in the above mentioned two-hour course curriculum periods.

3. The remaining junior high school periods are devoted this year to subject matter teaching. This subject matter, however, is definitely influenced by the work in the core curriculum period — growing out of or supplementing this work and being influenced by the philosophy influencing the core curriculum work.

4. The expansion of the core curriculum period in the junior high school and the introduction of such a period in the senior high school will be brought about as we gain experience with this type of work. We expect to introduce the core curriculum into the senior high school next year.

5. A county survey of Montevallo made by the school about a year ago revealed the following prominent needs which will influence our curriculum:

- (a) Mining and farming are the principal occupations represented.
- (b) In the mining industry labor unionism is a problem in respect to which ignorance and prejudice are common.
- (c) Seasonal variation of income of miners and thoughtless spending habits call for the need of budgeting and of consumer education.
- (d) Poor farming practices are common, and much eroded land is found in the vicinity.
- (e) Unpainted houses, bare and unkempt yards, lack of vegetable

Business Women
Sponsor Displays

The observance of National Business and Professional Women's Week during the past week proved of interest to the entire village of Montevallo. As their share in the observance, members of the local club fostered special window displays in downtown stores, and invited all the merchants to take part.

The window of the Little Shop was decorated by the club to carry out the national theme, "One Hundred Years of Women's Progress." One window showed the woman of a former era with her long, uncomfortable dress, and a spinning wheel. The other showed the modern business woman seated before her typewriter, modern books, and other things of present day interest. A class in design assisted with the decoration of this window.

The Alabama Power Company had interesting windows, showing a business woman's fashioned room and a modern room with the latest Alabama Power lighting. Hoffman's featured silk underwear and the Ben Franklin Store had an attractive window showing cosmetics. Wilson's displayed stationery and ink, and Cowart's had a good selection of silk hose. Members of the class in advertising assisted with the arrangement of these windows.

Gilbert's featured women's clothing and accessories and the Dawson Novelty Shop had an excellent display of office supplies. A clever little poem written by Mrs. Dawson was placed in a prominent position and took the place of posters which were displayed in the other windows.

Posters were also displayed by Klotzman's, Jeter's, the post office, and the Merchants and Planters Bank.

gardens, lack of inexpensive conveniences and good taste in the home are common among miners and others in the community.

(f) Low per capita income is the rule with much of the population and only about 12 per cent of the population have a strong feeling of financial security. Anti-social attitudes result from this condition. Approximately one-third of the population has been on relief at some time within the past few years.

(g) Recreational opportunities are meager, especially so in communities surrounding Montevallo. For example, much improvement should be made in recreational reading.

(h) The prevalence of accidents, on the roads and in the mines especially, emphasizes the need for safety education.

(i) Certain laws are being universally violated.

(j) Less than 35 per cent of those eligible for voting are qualified, and of those qualified, only a small percentage vote in all elections.

(k) Many are ignorant of common courtesies and accepted social customs.

(l) Superstitutions are common among certain groups.

(m) A questionnaire answered by pupils revealed a number of undesirable attitudes, especially those concerning the Negro.

(n) Vital statistics reveal that certain diseases are responsible for the majority of deaths. Conditions detrimental to health could be improved. Physical defects of children could be corrected.

(o) Religious organizations are not touching the lives of fifty per cent of the boys and girls.

(p) The school and school buses are crowded. Many improvements in school equipment, buildings, supplies, teaching technique, etc., could be made. The school is receiving less financial support and has a larger enrollment than was the case 5 years ago. Children should be acquainted with these conditions and the philosophy underlying support and control of education in a democracy.

port and control of education in a democracy.

(q) An occupational choice questionnaire answered by pupils reveals that 7 per cent of the parents are professional peoples and that 59 per cent of the pupils express preference for a profession. Thirty per cent of the parents are miners and not a single pupil expressed a preference for this work. Many other facts of educational significance were revealed by the survey.

The Community Chest

For Alabama College I am very pleased to endorse the Montevallo Community Chest and to commend the Chest to the staff of the College as worthy in every way of our united and generous support.

Although Alabama College is the creature of the State, it is quite impossible to think of the College community as other than an integral part of Montevallo and its surrounding territory. Our lives and our happiness are inseparably connected with the lives of all the people of this community. As citizens of the College community we are likewise citizens of the Montevallo community.

We can put our substance to no nobler purpose than to share it with the young and with the under-privileged who live in our midst. Education at its best should accomplish harmonious living with all those other people with whom one comes into contact. At its best, education should give us a nobler conception of life that results in the maximum of happiness to the masses as well as to the individual.

In the spirit of community living, which should be most happily achieved in any environment where the emphasis is on education, I endorse wholeheartedly for the College our own Community Chest.

(Signed)

A. F. HARMAN, President.

This Is Circus Day In Birmingham

For The First Time The Big Top Is Air Conditioned; New Acts Added to Show

With the world's largest big top air conditioned and restyled in interior decor, the Big Show—Ringling Bros. and Barnum and Bailey Combined Circus—boasting the finest setting in its impressive history as the foremost amusement institution of all time, will exhibit in Birmingham today and tonight, Thursday, October 19.

Gargantua the Great, the giant gorilla, the mightiest attraction in this or any other country, is this season displayed in the world's largest traveling menagerie, where the crowds may gaze close up at him at their leisure. As an adjunct to the menagerie, a horse tent, displaying in decorated stalls the 70 Kentucky equine beauties bought by John Ringling North, president of the circus, in and around Lexington last fall, connects with it.

Performances start at 2:15 and 8:15 p.m. with the new streamlined inaugural spectacle, "The World Comes to the World's Fair," created, costumed, and produced by Charles Le Maire, moving in iridescent magnificence under the blue ceiling of the vast tent. Backgrounds of drapes and tasseled curtains, gold and silver center and quarter poles enhance the beauty of the pageantry, in which 2,000 people and animals take part.

Terrell Jacobs, mighty mentor of jungle-bred beasts, will present the largest group of performing wild animals ever seen in America—50 lions and tigers.

And back to the Big Show comes the circus glamor girl—dashing Dorothy Herbert, whose exciting laybacks on rearing horses and fire hurdling equestrianism are the delight of audiences everywhere.

The big standard features—the Flying Concellos, the Riding Cristians, the Walkmirs, the Torrence-Dolores, Dolly Jacobs and her riding leopards and lion, the Pallenbergs and their wonderful bears, and all the rest of them are back.

And harness races have come to the big top for the first time in circus history—pounding hoofs, flying manes, flashing sulky wheels.

GIRL SCOUTS

The Montevallo Girl Scout Council met Thursday, October 12, at the Little House. Plans were made for a pancake supper to be given at the Girl Scout House in early November.

Mrs. Vaughan outlined for the council plans made by the troops for Girl Scout Week.

Those present at the meeting were Mrs. J. L. Appleton, Mrs. Houston Wills, Mrs. A. W. Vaughan, Mrs. E. P. Hood, Mrs. W. J. Kennerly, Mrs. O. B. Cooper, Mrs. J. T. Bagwell, Miss Edythe Saylor, and Miss Minnie Combs Barker.

Council members planning to attend the Field Institute in Birmingham this week are Mrs. O. B. Cooper, Mrs. E. P. Hood, Mrs. W. J. Kennerly, and Mrs. J. L. Appleton.

The Girl Scout Little House will be open to the public Sunday afternoons, October 22 and 29. The public is cordially invited to inspect it.

The twenty-fifth annual convention of the national organization of Girl Scouts will be held in Philadelphia, October 23-27.

Among prominent speakers at this meeting will be Mrs. F. D. Roosevelt, honorary president of Girl Scouts, who will speak at the opening session; Dr. James Rowland Angell, president-emeritus of Yale University, now head of the English Speaking Union; and Dr. Livingston Farrand, former president of Cornell, now technical adviser of the American Children's fund.

Girl Scout leaders will welcome the new leader's uniform. The squared shoulders and short-yoked action back balanced by the flared, six gore skirt make a more feminine garment with excellent lines. A crisp white pique trim at the neckline adds that immaculate touch so important to good grooming.

Employers of Women Prefer Ability To Good Looks

Alabama's employers of women prefer ability to good looks when they hire their assistants.

This became clear when Dr. Minnie L. Steckel, student counselor at Alabama College, made a study of "Alabama Women and Their Employers" which she published this week. In answer to Dr. Steckel's questionnaire, several hundred employers replied emphatically that "well rounded education and training" ranked first in their estimation. Mere "good looks" or "well groomed personal appearance" they rated third.

The result of this survey, in book form, is going out this week from Alabama College to over four thousand Alabama women leaders in club work and the professions.

Local committees helped to gather the material. In Birmingham her aides were Miss Bessie Merrill, Miss Claire Lynch, Miss Alma Lamar Bachman, Miss Bertha S. Beachwood, and Mrs. Gertrude DeArmand.

The bulletin, sponsored jointly by Alabama College and the Alabama Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, treats preferences both of employers and the employed women. The latter group is divided between high school and college graduates.

Dr. Steckel has published two similar bulletins: "A Study of the Employability of Women," and "The Alabama Business Woman as Citizen."

Varnell and Miss Lawson Publish Articles

Two members of the Montevallo college community, Mr. J. B. Varnell and Miss Olivia Lawson, are authors of very pertinent articles in the October issue of the Alabama School Journal.

Mr. Varnell has written for other Alabama school people a succinct and useful report of how a safety unit has been developed at the Montevallo High School. His method and the different creative projects undertaken by the students are treated in interesting detail.

Miss Lawson's contribution is an outline of a course dealing with the organization of local P. T. A.'s for prospective teachers who will deal with this problem in communities where they teach.

Montevallo Girls Are On The Alabamian Staff

Working with Miss Frances Scarbrough, Eastaboga, editor-in-chief, these girls help edit the news of the campus activities in which the girls, themselves, the college instructors, alumnae, parents of the girls, and friends of the college all over the state are vitally interested. In addition, the paper is distributed to all weekly newspapers in the state.

For the past two years, The Alabamian has been rated first-class in the national college newspaper competition.

Missionary Society Met With Mrs. Moore

Circle No. 2 of the Methodist Missionary Society met Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock, at the home of Mrs. J. Alex Moore, with Mrs. Noah Taff leader of the program.

Mrs. O. B. Cooper conducted the business meeting in the absence of Mrs. Howard Latham, circle leader.

The subject of the interesting program was "Lifting Our Horizons in Fields Afar, Through a United Methodism." A song was sung and Mrs. Kate Cook read the scripture lesson.

Mrs. O. B. Cooper gave the meditation, "Seek and Find," which was most interesting.

The prayer-hymn, "Spirit of God, Descend Upon My Heart," was sung, followed by two talks by Mrs. W. C. Weems and Mrs. J. M. Shores.

A responsive prayer was offered by the group for the world mission of the church, after which the song, "From All the Dark Places," was sung. The group was dismissed by repeating the watchword.

Talk by Mrs. Sanders

During the social hour which followed, the guest of the afternoon, Mrs. Sanders, gave an interesting talk on the schools in Bulgaria. Everyone enjoyed hearing this entertaining speaker, for having taught in Bulgaria, she spoke from her own experience, telling of her impressions of the schools visited over the country and of the manner in which the Bulgarians warmly welcome foreign teachers. Mrs. Sanders was the instructor in the mission study class recently completed and every member who attended the class feels that she has been benefited greatly.

A delightful social half hour with the hostess, Mrs. Moore, was enjoyed. She is the beloved Bible class instructor and is loved and admired by the group. A meeting in her home is one which is always enjoyed and remembered.
